Happy New Year from the Mississippi River Project

NEW 2014 ALONG THE RIVER – GUIDE TO RECREATION

Each year the Mississippi River Project publishes a new updated guide to camping and recreation areas along the banks of the Mississippi River that are managed by the project. This year's 2014 edition will be available soon and offers information on reserving a campsite, buying a boat ramp pass, campground amenities, and has a list of many things to see and do from Potosi, Wisconsin all the way to Saverton, Missouri. If you would like to receive a free copy of this annual publication, please e-mail your name and address to mvrodmn15@usace.army.mil and we will mail it to you as soon as they become available.

OUTDOOR SHOW AND RV CAMPING SHOW

If you have a love for the outdoors and winter is keeping you from participating in your favorite recreational activities then come visit with our ranger staff at the QCCA Expo Center in Rock Island, IL and get geared up for summer while the cold air is still blowing outside. The Outdoor Show will be held February 13th through the 16th and our rangers will be on hand to provide information on all the recreational opportunities our project has to offer. We will even have annual day use passes available for sale so that boaters can get ready for the season by purchasing their boat ramp sticker early. The RV Camping Show will be the following weekend February 21st through the 23rd and rangers will be on site to answer questions and provide information on all our camping and recreational areas. For more information on these shows check out the website www.qccaexpoctr.com

Dubuque Ranger Station News

In 2013, the Dubuque field station dealt with flooding and a government shutdown, but regardless still provided excellent program events, and implemented park improvements for our customers. Although flooding was an issue this year in our area we were not as affected as others downriver. For part of the recreation season, Grant River & Blanding Landing Recreation Areas were some of the few parks along the Mississippi that were open and fully functional.

The Bald Eagle Watch even last January, at the Grand River Center, marked the event's 25th anniversary. Thanks to major sponsors like Eagle Windows & Doors, Alliant Energy, American Trust Bank, Wal-Mart Foundation, Holiday Inn Express, MainStay Suites, & the Dubuque Convention and Visitors Bureau, this annual family event continues to be free to the general public. In May, the ecology meet held at Eagle Point Park in Dubuque was another great success with St. Columbkille of Dubuque, IA, bringing home the first place trophy. Holy Ghost Immaculate Conception of Kieler, WI, participated and graduated from our Jr. Ranger program.

During the recreation season, all of our parks benefited from improvements because of our maintenance team as well as a volunteer AmeriCorps group. Some of the improvements included re-shingling the shower building roof at Grant River, replacing the old boat dock at Blanding Landing, and the install of new vault toilets on the island at Pleasant Creek.

Although flooding and the government shutdown shortened our recreation season, we still worked hard to make you, our customers, happy in 2013.

Thomson Ranger Station News

This year brought many challenges along the Mississippi River and the Thomson Ranger Office experienced its fair share. Early in the spring, it appeared the drought of 2012 had been washed away with spring rains and minor flooding in our recreation area. This past year we experienced three minor flood events that caused several closures. After July 4th weekend though, the high water concerns washed downstream and created another drought like later summer and early fall. The weather was ideal for campers to come out and enjoy the remainder of the camping season.

Volunteers were a vital part of our successful year. Each year we depend on an array of individuals and groups to help us keep the recreations areas looking their best, and this past year was no exception. We continued our partnerships with local Boy Scouts of America Troops to successfully complete interpretive events, wildlife habitat projects, and maintenance in the recreation areas. Campground hosts completed an array of tasks ranging from campground maintenance, to visitor assistance, and emergency cleanup efforts. This year, Thomson Causeway Hosts', Gene and Betty Boyer were honored for contributing over 3,200 hours over six seasons.

We continued to promote Water Safety at our recreation areas and while out on boat patrol. Rangers can be found providing water safety programs, Lock and Dam Tours, or performing courtesy boat inspections. Each weekend campground programs were held at Thomson Causeway and Fisherman's Corner. Every year the Thomson Ranger Office organizes an array of special interpretive events: Eagle Watch, Wood Duck Nesting House Cleanouts, Earth Day, Photo Contest, Thomson Causeway Camper Craft Show and Trick or Treat in the Park. In 2013, Thomson Rangers prepared 74 programs for over 7,100 participants in events designed to encourage participants and visitors to get outdoors.

For the upcoming year we hope to build upon the success we achieved in 2013. With Mother Nature's cooperation we hope to pack the parks again this year with campers, boaters, fisherman, hunters and visitors of a likes while providing quality programs. If you have any questions regarding upcoming activities at the Thomson Ranger Office, please contact us.

Mississippi River Visitor Center News

The year 2013 was a busy one at the Mississippi River Visitor Center with many changes taking place that have really improved the facility and the opportunities that visitors have when making a visit. During the past year the staff with the Mississippi River Project has worked hard to renovate nearly all the main exhibits on navigation, recreation, and natural resource management in the upper level of the building. This renovation was made possible via a partnership with the Quad City Convention and Visitor's Bureau which serves as a cooperating association for the Mississippi River Project and several other partners that provided donated materials and resources. On Jan. 24th, 2014 from 9:00 AM – 4:00 PM the Visitor Center will be hosting an open house event with additional staff on hand to discuss some of the new exhibits and how this project was made possible.

In addition to working on the new renovations over the past year, the staff at the Visitor Center was also involved in many special events and happenings. From water safety patrol on the river to educational programming at local schools a day in the life of a Visitor Center ranger is never the same. The rangers from the Visitor Center presented 300 educational programs this past year which reached a total of 17,032 participants. These programs are hosted both on and offsite with the rangers providing information on subjects ranging from local history to natural resource management. Water safety is a huge priority for the staff along the Mississippi therefore river patrol is a must. The staff also assists local boaters with getting educated about the hazards on the river by conducting boating safety classes and helping our with large scale events like FLOATZILLA.

In 2014 the staff at the Visitor Center looks forward to the possibilities that a new year can bring. We thank you for your continued support and hope to see you soon at the Mississippi River Visitor Center.

Muscatine Ranger Station News

The Mississippi River Project had its fair share of struggles this year on the “recreation” front; and the Muscatine Ranger Station was no exception. However, we also had some new things happening that were quite good. Let’s start this review by working through our struggles, and ending with the highlights!

It took not one, not two, but three rounds of floods to go through before we could officially begin our prime recreation season! These flood events required us to close the parks for a combined total of 527 days! The breakdown was like this: Blanchard Island 108 days closed, Kilpeck Landing 101 days closed, Ferry Landing 116 days closed, Shady Creek 21 days closed and 69 days partially closed, Clark’s Ferry 18 days closed and 30 days partially closed, Andalusia Slough 13 days closed and 43 days partially closed, and finally Lock and Dam #16 was closed for 8 days.

Much coordination of volunteers, resources, and staff was required to safely and accurately employ our Flood Event Action Plan. I’m happy to say that no one involved in carrying out our plan had any safety mishaps! It’s always a good day, when a well thought out plan, is executed in the same manner, where no one gets hurt, including the public, the staff, and our facilities.

Another long struggle was the bad water situation at Clark’s Ferry Recreation Area. With the help of the IA Department of Natural Resources, an engineer, and contractors; we’re hopeful that the solution will be in place for next recreation season. The “root” of the problem (pun intended) appears to have been tree roots that infiltrated through cracks of the well casing causing the continuous return of bad water samples. We are in the process of getting the proper permits, specifications, and actual work completed to fix this problem once and for all.

Early this season, long time summer ranger Bill Yost decided to hang up his ranger hat for good. Bill was a ranger with the Muscatine Station for over 20 years. His knowledge, experience, and love for the job will be greatly missed!

Despite the three floods, the bad water situation at Clark’s Ferry, and being down a summer ranger and student aid; we did have many positive things happen this past year. I’ll highlight just a few for you here.

We had a young group of AmeriCorps volunteers, ages 18 to 28; accomplish many tasks for us in the parks. Now granted, they didn’t get as much done on the list as we had hoped, but that was only because yours and our priorities had changed, due to the flood events we had. We thought it was more important to get our campers back in the parks camping first, and then worry about the “list” later. This AmeriCorps group accomplished the following in the heat, mud, rain, and river: flood debris cleanup, weeding, boundary line cleanup, brush removal, painting and staining, and re-roofing the restrooms at Shady Creek. They did it all without a bed, a solid roof, and creature comforts. These young adults were good workers and didn’t complain once about their situation. Thanks AmeriCorps!

A new environmental education opportunity was implemented this past season as well. It was the Nature Backpack Program, where kids can check out a backpack for free from one of our fee booths and go explore the natural areas of the parks using the items inside. The backpack was checked out only a couple times this year. However, we hope that number increases by spreading the word to others. Can you help us with that?

The volunteers we had this year made a very positive impact on our recreation program. Thanks to the AmeriCorps, our long term volunteers Tom and Michelle, summer program presenters, craft show vendors, and eagle watch organizations to name a few; they logged a total of 57,604 hours of volunteer work!

We have some new news for the Muscatine Ranger Station and the Mississippi River Project as a whole to share with you as well. The old gravel boat ramp at Andalusia Slough Recreation Area along Hwy 92 in Illinois has been closed for good. The IL DOT has begun a road widening project there, which required the closure of this primitive boat ramp. Finally, most all of the Mississippi River Project's shelter's can now be reserved online at www.recreation.gov. The cost is still only $25.00. All shelter reservations need to be made through this website or by calling 1-877-444-6777 or at their respective fee booth.

So thanks for hanging in there everyone during this past year's struggles. We look forward to the 2014 recreation season and hope its flood free! Let's not hold our breath though. See you this summer!
